

CLASS INFORMATION

FOCUS: This training provides an introduction to advocacy for disability rights, both in systems (community organizations, legislative processes, civil rights laws, etc.) and with individuals. This course is ideal for professionals looking for Continue Education Units, community activists, and other interested individuals. It is available in-person or on-line.

WHEN: Tuesdays from 10:15 AM – 2:15 PM, June 13, 2017 – August 8, 2017 (July 4th off)

LOCATION: The University of Denver, Room TBD
2197 South University Blvd, Denver, CO 80208

The on-line class can be completed any time during the week on the same weekly time-line as the in-person class. It also includes a weekly conference call with all on-line students.
